ABOUT LONG REACH FOR THE ARTS

As a part of our mission to make creativity accessible to everyone, our Long Reach for the Arts program hosts K-12 students for one-of-a-kind experiences at the Long Center – all for free. Innovating how students engage with art and providing new opportunities for creative discovery, Long Reach for the Arts continues to connect students to the center of Austin's artistic identity year-round.

LEARN MORE

JASON ISBELL

Six-time Grammy Award-winning singer/songwriter Jason Isbell is one of the most respected and celebrated artists of his generation. The North Alabama native possesses an incredible penchant for identifying and articulating some of the deepest, yet simplest, human emotions, and turning them into beautiful poetry through song. Isbell sings of the everyday human condition with thoughtful, heartfelt, and sometimes brutal honesty.

After releasing multiple critically-acclaimed albums, appearing in an Academy Award-nominated film, Killers of the Flower Moon, and touring the world with his band, the 400 Unit, Isbell began 2025 with a change of pace. A solo record. Simply Isbell and his voice and an acoustic guitar, an all-mahogany 1940 Martin 0-17. Recorded at Electric Lady Studios in NYC, 'Foxes in the Snow' further demonstrates his pure talent as a songwriter and musician. As Stereogum so aptly put it, "the barebones intimacy recenters the artist behind the persona and serves as a reminder that this guy can write a damn song."
